

POINTS SPORTS HEALTH INTRODUCES "DOCTOR OF THE MONTH" AWARD

(Morristown, NJ) – Points Sports Health (PSH, <http://www.pointssports.com/>) has introduced its “Doctor of the Month” award to acknowledge distinguished members of the medical community who have demonstrated commitment and outstanding service in sports medicine. The inaugural recipient is Dr. Timothy Hosea of University Orthopaedic Associates in New Jersey; Dr. Hosea is a respected orthopaedic surgeon with subspecialty certification in orthopaedic sports medicine.

Sports medicine is a complex subspecialty that requires strict and rigorous education and certification, which may not always be evident to the average health care consumer. Through this new monthly recognition, PSH looks to help people find the best sports medicine care by identifying the nation’s top practitioners in the field.

“We feel it is necessary to recognize the sports medicine physicians who have offered exceptional sports medicine services over many years and made valuable contributions to the sports community,” says Points Sports Health CEO Thomas Hofstetter. “We’re pleased to have Dr. Hosea be our first recipient.”

Awardees are selected by a special PSH committee, comprised of PSH management and PSH Advisory Board members. Each receives a plaque and is spotlighted through a profile which will be featured online, in the monthly PSH newsletter and through PSH partner channels.

Points Sports Health (PSH), a branch of Points Medical*, is an online resource for comprehensive and cutting-edge sports health information, educational material and medical referrals. A unique clearinghouse for all aspects of consumer sports health—with a changing menu of videos, articles, blogs and other news—PSH also is a vehicle that brings patients and doctors together through a free referral service for premier sports health providers. It is managed by a group of sports health and medical services professionals as well as the PSH Advisory Board, which includes nationally recognized medical experts in a variety of specialties.
